Nativity Prep and NBRR Featured in Southcoast Today

Nativity Prep eighth graders are featured at New Bedford Research and Robotics in Southcoast Today. The students have been engaged in a pilot program this year - attending NBRR as a complement to their study of physical science. Next year, the partnership will include afterschool activities and more curricular collaboration.

A Special Message for Pi Day

Domino's owner, Nelson Hockert-Lotz had a special message for the Nativity Prep students on Pi Day. "The arc of our life is made up of an endless number of very small decisions... The Theory of Pi in philosophy is that our smallest habits become our entire life! Just as an infinite number of straight lines becomes a circle." Nelson shared his personal and professional journey while explaining the history of Pi, and he treated the entire school to pizza for lunch. The school also continued the tradition of allowing the boys who could remember the most digits of Pi to pie a faculty member in the face.

25th Anniversary Celebration - Tickets on Sale Now

Nativity Prep is sailing into the next quarter century. Tickets are now on sale for our celebration on June 5th. Cisco Brewers Beer Garden will be open exclusively for Nativity Prep. Purchase your tickets here.

STEAM the Streets at Our Sisters' School

Our Sisters' School hosted Nativity Prep for a STEAM the Streets presentation led by co-founder and Youth Engagement Specialist, Angel Diaz. The mission of the organization is "To inform, inspire, and activate underserved youth to pursue in-demand career paths." Through music, video and an interactive presentation, the students learned about career opportunities in Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts and Math.

March Madness at Nativity Prep

This March Nativity Prep is hosting its own March Madness Basketball competition. The newly formed advisory groups have been broken into basketball teams, and the school will feature three vs. three games last period on Friday afternoons.

LAST CALL to register for Monday April 7 5:30 pm Keynote speaker, Troy Kemp. To register click here.

Support Our Mission - It's More Critical Than Ever

In recent months, a number of articles have been published on research that shows boys and men are falling behind on nearly every measure, especially Blacks and Latinos. You can do something about this concerning trend by supporting Nativity Prep's vision to be a model for closing the academic achievement gap for boys. Donate here.
